my visit to

lincoln children's museum

Today I am going to the Lincoln Children's Museum.

I will know I am there when I see the blue
and red balls in front of the building!

When I get to the museum, I may need to wait in line. I will wait patiently for my turn.

When it is my turn, the museum staff will check us in.

To keep my hands clean
and stay healthy while I play, I can use
the sanitizer
stops located on
poles or walls
throughout the museum.

I can find a map of the museum near the Welcome Desk. It will help me decide what to see at the museum.

I know I will have to follow the rules and listen to my adult while I am at the museum.

Here is a list of the areas I can visit at the museum.

When exploring the main floor, I will notice the Union Bank and Trust exhibit, a HyVee grocery store, a Runza restaurant, and more!

If I visit the Grow Zone area with a friend or family member who is under 3, I will need to take off my shoes and put them in a cubbie to keep the floor nice and clean in that area.

When I visit the lower level of the museum I will notice a very tall cuckoo clock I can crawl inside of and blue blocks I can build with.

I can dress up and put on a show at the Johnny Carson Theatre. In the backstage area, I will find many different costumes and buttons that make sound effects.

I will also notice an area that is blocked off to make way for a new exhibit that will be so much fun to discover once it's done.

I will also see another exhibit on
the lower level called Exploring Trees –
Inside and Out.

There will be many
science and sensory activities. I can plant a tree, listen to
and smell nature,
look through a
microscope, build a
bird house, and even climb inside a tree.

On the upper level of the museum I can build with colorful blocks using buttons to control Riley the Robot's long, electric arms.

There is a photo booth exhibit where I can take my picture with Husker-themed scenes. My adult can email my picture to themselves so we can keep it to look at once we get home.

There are familiar exhibits to play in as well.

I can push the buttons and look for new additions in the model train area.

I can crawl and climb in the Prairie Dog Tunnels.

If I need a break from exhibit play, or just a quieter place to be, I can visit Tinker Theatre where a museum friend will help me create a special art project to take home.

Tinker Theatre has special hours though, so my adult can check the museum's website to plan our visit times if needed.

If I get hungry while we are at the museum I can visit Kazoo's U-STOP cafe to have a snack. I can have my snack inside at a table or outside on the patio.

Some places in the museum may be exciting and loud. I will need to remember to take turns with other visitors and try to stay calm.

If I am having a hard time, my adult can ask for a sensory bag at the Welcome Desk to make my visit more enjoyable.

When I am all
done playing, it
will be time to go.

If I followed the rules by taking
turns, using hand
sanitizer, using walking feet, and listening to my adult, I will be able to come back.

I can't wait to come and play
again soon!
